Headline:
Sunny spells and showers.

Today:
Mainly fine at first with sunny spells, but these conditions sparking scattered showers in some northern and eastern parts. Perhaps becoming more generally cloudy in the west late on, with some showery rain arriving. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
Becoming largely cloudy, with patchy light rain interspersed in places by heavy showers, with these more likely in the south. Mild with light winds. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Monday:
Rather cloudy, with showery rain developing into heavier and locally prolonged showers, with a risk of slow-moving torrential downpours and thunder. Feeling humid, with light winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Scattered sharp showers possible on Tuesday, but overall these should be fewer and lighter than on Monday. Conditions turning more settled from midweek with more in the way of sunshine.
